

ABCFP Membership Directory Conditions of Use

ABCFP Membership Directory

These conditions of use govern your use of the ABCFP Membership Directory containing contact information about members. Your use of the ABCFP Membership Directory constitutes an affirmative acknowledgement and agreement by you that you accept and agree to abide by and be bound by these conditions and any subsequent modifications. Should you object to any of these conditions or subsequent modifications, your only recourse is to immediately discontinue your use of the ABCFP Membership Directory.

Your Conduct

- Access to the ABCFP Membership Directory containing contact information about members is restricted. You must be a current member of the Association of British Columbia Forest Professionals to access this directory.
- Members have authorized the association to release their contact information to other members. This information is not to be released or sold to any third parties.
- This information is not to be used for commercial uses, promotional uses, solicitation or other similar uses.
- This information is not to be used to harass members.
- This information is not to be used to generate mailing lists, e-mail lists, phone lists or other lists for any use that is not authorized by the Association of British Columbia Forest Professionals.
- This information is only to be used for professional forestry purposes or for communication with colleagues.
- If you are not sure whether your intended use qualifies as a “professional forestry purpose” or “communication with colleagues” you should check with the Association of British Columbia Forest Professionals before using the information.
- If you fail to abide by these conditions of use, you will be denied access to the ABCFP Membership Directory containing contact information about members.

Accuracy of Information

All information is provided in good faith. If you are aware of any contact information that is out of date, please notify the association.